STATE TRAPSHOOT TOURNNEY STARTS JUNE 10

BREEZY POINT TO ENTERTAIN COMING HOSTS

MANY WILL TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE BRAINERD SHOOT
JUNE 9

WORLD FAMOUS KINGS OF TRAP-SHOOTING WORLD ARE COMING

The formal opening of Breezy Point Lodge, located five miles east of Pequot and 20 miles north of Brainerd, will occur on Tuesday, June 10, first day of the Minnesota State Trapshooting Tournament, and will be signalized by a dinner and dance, followed by fireworks in a beautiful display over Big Pelican lake. A large attendance is expected from all Central Minnesota, as roads are in splendid shape for touring.

That it will be a most brilliant opening is further evidenced by the fact that the most famous shots from the United States and Canada will be assembled for the state trap shoot. This state tournament offers $2,000 in cash prizes and 15 loving cups for the winners in various classes.

Winnipeg, Canada, shooters are coming down in a large delegation; Swan River, Manitoba, will be represented and other parts of the Dominion. Among the famous American shots coming are the veteran Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Iowa; Clarence Parker of Minot, N. D., a millionaire shooter who was a companion of Captain William H. Fawcett on the latter's buffalo hunt last year; Marc Arie of Champaign, Ill., winner of the Grand American handicap at Chicago last year; Chan Powers of Decatur, Ill.; Joe Dawson of Omaha, the state champion of Nebraska.

Fort Snelling and Twin City gun clubs are coming en masse. The Brainerd gun club, which has a shoot at Brainerd, June 9, will be represented 100 per cent. So will Wadena which has a shoot previous.

Shooters of last year will be surprised to see the many improvements made at Breezy Point Lodge. Over 100 acres have been added to its already broad domains.

Captain William H. Fawcett, state president of the trapshooters, will not be able to attend. He captains the American Olympic trapshooting team and after being shown high honors in New York City, is on his way to Paris. Before returning the team will also enter events in England, Scotland, France and Italy.

(By United Press)

Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, in an interview with the United Press, said he did not expect to use the nomination speech he has prepared to introduce the senator at the Cleveland convention next week. Governor John J. Blaine is "going to Cleveland to nominate La Follette on the party's progressive platform," but he qualified this statement by adding "as far as I am concerned."

DENOUNCED BY SENATOR WALSH; MADE BY FALL

(By United Press)

Washington, June 5.—Leases of three naval oil reserves made by Albert B. Fall, are denounced as illegal and corrupt in the report of Senator Thomas J. Walsh to the senate oil committee today.

The report brought to an end the long and sensational "scandal" inquiry which involved scores of men high in public life and resulted in the resignation of a cabinet officer.

Indictments now will be sought against the principals and suit is being brought for cancellation of the leases.

Recommendations are made in the report for tightening of existing governmental regulations so that the possibility of similar leases of public domains will be diminished.

The report was written by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, who was a leader in the investigation brought nine months ago by the senate public lands committee.

A minority report may be submitted later by Senator Spencer, Mo., rep., who objects to many features of the Walsh report.

The chief features of the Walsh report are: Denunciation of leases made by former Secretary of the Interior Fall and Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny, declaring they were made with "flagrant disregard of the law."

A severe arraignment of Fall for accepting "loans" of $25,000 from Sinclair and $100,000 from Doheny, with an attack upon former Secretary of the Navy Denby charging dereliction of duty in failing to investigate the leases before affixing his signature to them.

A suggestion that hereafter no leases of government oil lands should be made without competitive bids and then only in case the lands are suffering from drainage by adjacent properties.

A recommendation that hereafter leases should be passed on by the comptroller general.

A charge that leases are "corrupt" without mentioning names of those against whom the corruption is charged by aiming it clearly at the half dozen principals in connection with the leases.

An attack upon Fall for using marines to chase off the Teapot Dome certain squatters who were contending Sinclair's rights. Walsh calls this an "outrageous and unjustified use of the armed forces of the United States," and declares a civil suit should have been instituted to chase off the squatters.

Denial that the leases could be justified on the ground that there was heavy drainage that was diminishing the supply of oil in the ground.

Denunciation of Sinclair for having paid millions of dollars to "irresponsible" claimants "with more or less shadowy claims."

The report deals strictly with the testimony developing from a legal standpoint. It does not pass judgment in most instances and sets forth facts without interpreting them.

Walsh said, however: "Disposing of the evidence, it is not well to dismiss or overlook the very suggestive circumstances shown in the hearings, indicating corruption in connection with Sinclair and Doheny leases; the flagrant disregard of law and the uncalled for assumption of authority that accompanied their action, the abandonment of the settled policy of government evidences by the failure to inquire as to whether they are or are not an excellent bargain from the standpoint of the government."

"This evidence, fairly arrived at, all points to the conclusion that they are such and obviously designed to divert attention from or to overcome the effects upon the public mind of all features of the transactions.

FOG HOLDS UP CAPT. D'OISY IN FLIGHT TO JAPAN

(By United Press)

Tokio, June 5.—Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy was held up in his flight to Japan by a fog, according to messages here today.

The French airman took off from Tuiku, Korea, at 5:20 a. m. to resume his flight to Tokio, but was forced to land because of the heavy weather.

Not only was the Teapot Dome lease awarded to Sinclair without competition, but he paid fabulous sums to procure elimination of potential rivals.

"One seeking a fair contract from the government does not buy off his competitors; neither does he, when he secures it, ordinarily submit to blackmail in connection with it; nor does he, while negotiating or pending the outcome of the award, confer with lawyers."

This lease is believed to be connected with the fact that Sinclair paid Leo J. Stack and F. G. Bonfils of Denver a million dollars for an alleged claim which Walsh states was worthless.

In this connection Walsh also points with significance to the fact that Bonfils was editor of a Denver newspaper which attacked the leases at first, but when Sinclair promised to pay the money "the attacks of the newspaper thereupon ceased."

The proprietor of the rival newspaper, upon a claim even more shadowy, if indeed it could be called a claim at all, was given $92,500 out of the Pioneer Oil company as its share of moneys yielded by Sinclair, Walsh continued.

Walsh based his main attack against the leases on the ground that the executive order by President Harding transferring jurisdiction of the naval reserves from the navy department to Fall in the interior department was illegal.

"This order is counter to the well-understood policy of congress," Walsh said. "Its illegality ought to have been recognized by everyone concerned in its promulgation. The idea that the president may, by his fiat, transfer powers reposed in or imposed upon one cabinet officer to another is indefensible."

Referring to Denby, Walsh said the former navy secretary had sanctioned the leases because he had been told the reserves were being drained.

"He was unable to name the one who told him so," Walsh said, "but he assumed full responsibility for the policy."

In connection with the Teapot lease to Sinclair, Walsh said: "The negotiations leading to the leases were conducted in secret. There was no competition. No explanation whatever is found in the records for the procedure that was followed."

Outlining the evidence that Doheny sent Fall $100,000 in cash in a black satchel by his son and that Sinclair, through his counsel, J. W. Zevely, gave Fall $25,000, Walsh said:

"Your committee ventures no opinion as to whether the transaction was in fact a loan or whether it might more appropriately be otherwise denominated."

"This committee refrains from characterizing the transaction, but it does not hesitate to condemn it as in the last degree reprehensible on the part of all concerned in it. As to the corrupt character of a loan made under such circumstances we have no comment."

"It is impossible for an officer to accept a loan of such an amount or perhaps any amount, under the circumstances, without a sense of obligation to the lender."

Walsh also mentioned the $10,000 said to have been paid to the republican campaign fund by Sinclair and a subsequent payment of $75,000 said to have been paid to make up a deficit. He also referred to the contribution of Doheny to both party funds.

Walsh admitted in the report that

JAPAN BIDS FAREWELL TO CYRUS WOODS

(By United Press)

Tokio, June 5.—Japan gave United States Ambassador Cyrus Woods an impressive demonstration of its affection as it bade him farewell at the Tokio railway station today.

Despite the present irritation over the Japanese exclusion clause in the new immigration law, more than 10,000 persons crowded the station plaza and cheered the ambassador as he arrived to take a train for Yokohama, from where he will sail for home tomorrow, following his resignation.

Police were unable to control the enthusiastic crowds which swarmed around the ambassador and his party, giving cheer after cheer for the man who has done so much towards fostering good Japanese-American relations, and whose resignation, they feel, is a silent protest against the exclusion clause.

High officials, including Baron Matsui, came down to the station to wish the ambassador bon voyage.

FLIES BREED RAPIDLY IN JUNE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 5.—Flies breed most rapidly in June. Now is the time to swat!

So says a warning of the entomology department, University of Minnesota, just issued.

Where it is impossible to do sufficient swatting to reduce the fly population, the department recommends fly traps.

One of the best traps for farmers, is a large screen trap baited with bananas and milk. The flies have a keen sense of smell and are among the smartest of insects, so you can't fool 'em with bait that isn't good, entomologists declare.

Cleaning up garbage piles, manure piles and refuse will help to eliminate flies, and during the hot summer days when flies are breeding most rapidly, every effort should be taken to exterminate them, the department advised.

DEADLY GRADE CROSSING—3 KILLED

(By United Press)

Madison, Wis., June 5.—Two men and a woman, residents of Rockford, Ill., were instantly killed near here today when their automobile was demolished by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train at a grade crossing.

The dead are John Stoneberg, Mrs. Stoneberg and Norman Blumquist, brother of Mrs. Stoneberg.

he had failed to establish that there was a conspiracy of oil operators at the republican convention to select a "compliant" secretary of the interior.

In concluding Walsh stated that the committee might later attempt to get additional evidence when the court has determined when Sinclair, Fall and others will be required to testify.

WHEELER GIVES PRAISE TO WALSH

(By United Press)

St. Louis, Mo., June 5.—"I think the democratic party should show its appreciation of Senator Walsh by giving him the highest honor within its power."

This was the comment of Senator Burton K. Wheeler today after reading a resume of his Montana colleague's report to the oil committee on the lease investigation.

(By United Press)

Smith was delayed by an accident at the takeoff from Kagoshima yesterday and could not proceed until he had completed minor repairs to his machine.

TIDAL WAVE SWEEPED COAST OF PERU TODAY

(By United Press)

Lima, Peru, June 5.—Ships were sunk, towns flooded and several lives are believed lost as a result of a tidal wave which swept the Peruvian littoral early today.

A huge wall of water swept down on coast towns, driving vessels on the rocks and swamping many small craft.

The German barkentine Lemkenhaven of Hamburg capsized before the force of the wave at Cerroazul and her captain was drowned. The Norwegian bark Fjong also was driven on the rocks and is a total loss.

Many small craft were swept under off Callao, the port of Lima. Lower sections of that city were damaged.

The wave extended as far north as Chimbote.

HEARINGS ON LIGNITE COAL FREIGHT RATES

(By United Press)

Bismarck, N. D., June 5.—Hearings on the proposed increase of 50 per cent in the lignite coal rates will be held today before the interstate commerce commission in Washington.

Division two of the commission will hear the case. It is proposed to increase the freight on lignite from mines in western North Dakota to points in the eastern half of the state, and into South Dakota and Minnesota.

Lignite operators declare the increase will destroy the industry, limiting the field for lignite to a very small area.

Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota has charged that the increase is a conspiracy between eastern railroads and coal dock operators; while representatives of lignite consumers, both in this state and in South Dakota, declare the increase will add tremendously to their coal bills.

Hearings were held in the matter before joint federal and state commissions in South and North Dakota, Frank Lyons, Washington, D. C., attorney for the Dock Operators association, represented the latter and cross examined the witnesses placed on the stand by the lignite operators and traffic representatives of cities in this state.

E. M. Hendricks, traffic expert for the North Dakota railroad commission, told Examiner Wagner of the Interstate Commerce commission at the hearing in Bismarck that the proposed increases on lignite coal would cost the state $40,000 annually on shipments to state institutions. (State institutions are required to use the native coal.) Mr. Hendricks said the proposed rates would increase the cost of shipping lignite coal 200 miles over one railroad from $1.34 to $2.19 per ton. Two hundred miles he said was the average lignite haul.

NIGHT SESSION OF GRAND JURY IN CHICAGO

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—A night session of the Cook county grand jury will be held if necessary in order to prevent delay in the returning of an indictment against Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, State's Attorney Robert Crowe announced today.

Crowe, who is personally directing the submission of evidence against the two boys to the grand jury had hoped indictment would be voted this afternoon. A number of new witnesses, however, had to be heard and chances were slight that true bills would be ready.

"We will hold a night session if necessary," Crowe said.

"We want no delay in the returning of indictments and no delay in bringing these murderers to trial."

CLAIMS SHE WAS ATTACKED IN THEATRE

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 5.—A praecipe for a suit demanding $100,000 from Leopold and Loeb was filed in court today by attorneys for Louise Hohly, Chicago girl. Although the praecipe did not make public the basis of the claims, the young woman's attorneys indicated she charged the two confessed murderers had attacked her in a moving picture theatre three months ago.

FRENCH CRISIS STILL ACUTE, SOCIALISTS BUSY

(By United Press)

Paris, June 5.—The crisis brought about by the socialists demand that President Millerand resign still was acute today and there were no indications that the course which events will take will be known before night-fall.

Paul Painleve, elected president of the new chamber of deputies, visits President Millerand this morning and later will receive a return call from the executive.

It is considered certain the president will ask Painleve's advice about the demand that he resign.

Later Millerand will call on the president of the chamber and M. Doumergue, who will lay before him the exact situation regarding the demand for his resignation.

It still appears that Millerand will offer the premiership to Deputy Herriot of the left wing group.

HERRIOT REFUSES THE PREMIERSHIP

(By United Press)

Paris, June 5.—Edouard Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, today refused the premiership of France, a post offered him by President Millerand.

So says a warning of the entomology department, University of Minnesota, just issued.

Where it is impossible to do sufficient swatting to reduce the fly population, the department recommends fly traps.

One of the best traps for farmers, is a large screen trap baited with bananas and milk. The flies have a keen sense of smell and are among the smartest of insects, so you can't fool 'em with bait that isn't good, entomologists declare.

Cleaning up garbage piles, manure piles and refuse will help to eliminate flies, and during the hot summer days when flies are breeding most rapidly, every effort should be taken to exterminate them, the department advised.

DEADLY GRADE CROSSING—3 KILLED

(By United Press)
Madison, Wis., June 5.—Two men and a woman, residents of Rockford, Ill., were instantly killed near here today when their automobile was demolished by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train at a grade crossing. The dead are John Stoneberg, Mrs. Stoneberg and Norman Blumquist, brother of Mrs. Stoneberg.

he had failed to establish that there was a conspiracy of oil operators at the republican convention to select a "complanent" secretary of the interior.

In concluding Walsh stated that the committee might later attempt to get additional evidence when the court has determined when Sinclair, Fall and others will be required to testify.

WHEELER GIVES PRAISE TO WALSH

St. Louis, Mo., June 5.—"I think the democratic party should show its appreciation of Senator Walsh by giving him the highest honor without its power."

This was the comment of Senator Burton K. Wheeler today after reading a resume of his Montana colleague's report to the oil committee on the lease investigation.

"The report is true as the facts are known to me. I believe Senator Walsh is the greatest investigating lawyer in the senate."

SMITH JOINS HIS FLIER COMRADES WAITING AT SHANGHAI

(By United Press)
Shanghai, June 5.—Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the U. S. Army round the world flight, arrived at noon today after a successful flight from Kagoshima, Japan.

Lieuts. Nelson and Wade, who arrived yesterday, were waiting for their commander and greeted him affectionately as he came ashore from his plane.

Smith was delayed by an accident at the takeoff from Kagoshima yesterday and could not proceed until he had completed minor repairs to his machine.

TIDAL WAVE SWEEPED COAST OF PERU TODAY

SHIPS WERE SUNK, TOWNS WERE FLOODED, SEVERAL LIVES LOST

HUGE WALL OF WATER DROVE VESSELS ON ROCKS OF COAST

(By United Press)
Lima, Peru, June 5.—Ships were sunk, towns flooded and several lives are believed lost as a result of a tidal wave which swept the Peruvian littoral early today.

A huge wall of water swept down on coast towns, driving vessels on the rocks and swamping many small craft.

The German barkentine Lemkenhaven of Hamburg capsized before the force of the wave at Cerroazul and her captain was drowned. The Norwegian bark Pjong also was driven on the rocks and is a total loss.

Many small craft were swept under off Callao, the port of Lima. Lower sections of that city were damaged.

The wave extended as far north as Chimbote.

HEARINGS ON LIGNITE COAL FREIGHT RATES

(By United Press)
Bismarck, N. D., June 5.—Hearings on the proposed increase of 50 per cent in the lignite coal rates will be held today before the interstate commerce commission in Washington.

Division two of the commission will hear the case. It is proposed to increase the freight on lignite from mines in western North Dakota to points in the eastern half of the state, and into South Dakota and Minnesota.

Lignite operators declare the increase will destroy the industry, limiting the field for lignite to a very small area. Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota has charged that the increase is a conspiracy between eastern railroads and coal dock operators; while representatives of lignite consumers, both in this state and in South Dakota, declare the increase will add tremendously to their coal bills.

Hearings were held in the matter before joint federal and state commissions in South and North Dakota. Frank Lyons, Washington, D. C., attorney for the Dock Operators association, represented the latter and cross examined the witnesses placed on the stand by the lignite operators and traffic representatives of cities in this state.

E. M. Hendricks, traffic expert for the North Dakota railroad commission, told Examiner Wagner of the Interstate Commerce commission at the hearing in Bismarck that the proposed increases on lignite coal would cost the state $40,000 annually on shipments to state institutions. (State institutions are required to use the native coal.) Mr. Hendricks said the proposed rates would increase the cost of shipping lignite coal 200 miles over one railroad from $1.34 to $2.19 per ton. Two hundred miles he said was the average lignite haul.

NIGHT SESSION OF GRAND JURY IN CHICAGO

INVESTIGATES THE LEOPOLD-LOEB CASES CHARGING MURDER

AN INDICTMENT HOPED FOR THIS AFTERNOON BY CROWE

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 5.—A night session of the Cook county grand jury will be held if necessary in order to prevent delay in the returning of an indictment against Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, State's Attorney Robert Crowe announced today.

Crowe, who is personally directing the submission of evidence against the two boys to the grand jury had hoped indictment would be voted this afternoon. A number of new witnesses, however, had to be heard and chances were slight that true bills would be ready.

"We will hold a night session if necessary," Crowe said.

"We want no delay in the returning of indictments and no delay in bringing these murderers to trial."

CLAIMS SHE WAS ATTACKED IN THEATRE

Chicago, June 5.—A praecipe for a suit demanding $100,000 from Leopold and Loeb was filed in court today by attorneys for Louise Hobly, Chicago girl. Although the praecipe did not make public the basis of the claims, the young woman's attorneys indicated she charged the two confessed murderers had attacked her in a moving picture theatre three months ago.

FRENCH CRISIS STILL ACUTE, SOCIALISTS BUSY

PAUL PAINLEVE, NEW PRESI-DENT OF DEPUTIES, VISITS
MILLERAND

DEMAND STILL EXISTS FOR THE RESIGNATION OF MILLER- AND

(By United Press)
Paris, June 5.—The crisis brought about by the socialists demand that President Millerand resign still was acute today and there were no indications that the course which events will take will be known before nightfall.

Paul Painleve, elected president of the new chamber of deputies, visits President Millerand this morning and later will receive a return call from the executive.

It is considered certain the president will ask Painleve's advice about the demand that he resign.

Later Millerand will call on the president of the chamber and M. Doumergue, who will lay before him the exact situation regarding the demand for his resignation.

It still appears that Millerand will offer the premiership to Deputy Herriot of the left wing group.

HERRIOT REFUSES THE PREMIERSHIP

Paris, June 5.—Edouard Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, today refused the premiership of France, a post offered him by President Millerand.

The president of the republic asked Senator Millies LaCroix to attempt to form a cabinet.

Ottawa, Ont., June 5.—Registrations of motor vehicles in Canada during 1923 aggregated 586,764, as against 513,821 for 1922, an increase of 72,943, or 14 per cent.

Toronto, Ont., June 5.—There are more than 1,000,000 boys and girls in the Sunday schools of Canada.

Amphioxus is a little creature that lives in the sea, and also in laboratories where he serves as a specimen to students of zoology. He is something like a fish and something like a worm, and is about two inches long. The Chinese eat him. This taste on their part has caused the development of one of the most extraordinary fishing grounds in the sea, located in the narrow strait between the mainland and the island of Amoy. In this limited area 200 fishing boats are employed daily from August to April in the dredging up of amphioxus which inhabit the bottom of the strait in enormous numbers. The average daily catch of the fleet is more than 300 tons. It has been calculated that this represents 6,500,000 individuals and that the average annual catch amounts to 1,000,000,000 amphioxus. Since most of them are not caught the numbers of these tiny creatures on this stretch of the sea bottom may be better imagined than calculated.

Burlington looked up from his desk upon hearing a cherry "Hello!" and found himself looking into the face of Davidson, college chum whom he had not seen for several years, says a writer in the Kansas City Star.

"Why, Davy, old fellow!" Burlington exclaimed. "Where in the world did you come from and what are you doing here?"

Then the two launched into explanations and reminiscences of college days. After an hour or more, Davidson declared that he must be on his way.

"How long are you going to be in town?" Burlington asked.

"Oh, two weeks at least," Davidson replied.

"That's fine! Won't you come out to the house for dinner Sunday?" Burlington asked.

Davidson hesitated a moment.

"But I already have an engagement for Sunday," he said. "Can't you make it the Sunday following?"

"Sure thing," Burlington agreed. "I'll see you again a week from Sunday, then."

"Oh, yes; but you'll see me next Sunday, too," Davidson told him.

"I don't quite get you," Burlington said. "I thought you had another engagement for next Sunday."

"Sure, I have," Davidson repeated, "but it is also at your house. I called up your wife this morning and said hello to her and she invited me out for Sunday!"

Simply Meant He Was Guest at Two Dinners

Burlington looked up from his desk upon hearing a cheery "Hello!" and found himself looking into the face of Davidson, college chum whom he had not seen for several years, says a writer in the Kansas City Star.

"Why, Davy, old fellow!" Burlington exclaimed. "Where in the world did you come from and what are you doing here?"

Then the two launched into explanations and reminiscences of college days. After an hour or more, Davidson declared that he must be on his way.

"How long are you going to be in town?" Burlington asked.

"Oh, two weeks at least," Davidson replied.

"That's fine! Won't you come out to the house for dinner Sunday?" Burlington asked.

Davidson hesitated a moment. "But I already have an engagement for Sunday," he said. "Can't you make it the Sunday following?"

"Sure thing," Burlington agreed. "I'll see you again a week from Sunday, then."

"Oh, yes; but you'll see me next Sunday, too," Davidson told him.

"I don't quite get you," Burlington said. "I thought you had another engagement for next Sunday."

"Sure, I have," Davidson repeated, "but it is also at your house. I called up your wife this morning and said hello to her and she invited me out for Sunday!"

Abundant Proof That

Animals Exercise Wits

That animals think before they act is the conviction expressed by Dhan Gopal Mukerji, Indian lecturer and author.

Mr. Mukerji asserts that all real doing was the result of active contemplation and thinking, and that deeds unpremeditated were short-lived, and cites examples from his experiences with animals in India.

"Once," said Mr. Mukerji, "I was with a party of men who were traveling in India on elephants. One morning we saw the purplish color in the high grass which indicates that a tiger is lying there. Before any of us could raise a rifle the male, for there were two of them, had leaped to the back of one of the elephants and remained there face to face with the helpless rider. Meantime his mate, the tigress, slunk away into some deep underbrush and safety. She uttered one little cry and her mate leaped from the back of the elephant and followed her. He was shot down.

"The whole act was not one of aggression, but of protection. The tiger did not want to attack our man, but to prevent us from attacking his mate. He did not instinctively save his own life, but, after thought, however brief, determined to sacrifice his own to save hers. He knew that she who could bear cubs and bring them up was of more value than he, and that it was his duty to save her.

"In another instance the elephant was left with a little Indian baby in a basket while the parent of the babe went away for several hours. The elephant was tied so that he could not reach the basket. When the parent came back (I was with him) we saw that a huge poisonous snake had coiled itself around the basket. We did not know what to do for fear that the snake would strike the baby if we made any move.

The elephant all the while was straining the rope which held him and trying to attract the snake's attention by swinging his trunk. He was clearly trying to get the snake to attack him and leave the baby. The parent carried a club. Suddenly the elephant saw it and with one swoop of his trunk wrenched it away from the man. He moved the club back and forth over the ground until the snake saw it. The snake uncoiled itself and moved over and coiled itself around the stick. With one rapid stroke the elephant raised and lowered his trunk, killing the snake.

"The elephant had thought out the whole ruse and the snake had been outwitted. The elephant's actions throughout had been intelligently calculated to save the baby even though it were necessary to be bitten himself."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Early Swimming Tank

The earliest known English public swimming pool was advertised in London May 28, 1742, to be open and that "waiters attend daily to teach or assist gentlemen in the said swimming bath if required."

A Lost Art

The Guide—Look at that half-ruined castle—It must be at least eight hundred years old. Believe me, lady, they don't build such ancient castles these days!—From Pasquino, Turin.

Blackbirds Eat Trout;

Cows Are Fed on Fish

Those who study Nature find that age-long traits and habits are being in some cases modified and in others entirely changed.

The writer knows of a case where a bird had its habits changed by altered conditions.

A trout fishery was established on an estate in Scotland. During certain seasons a large number of the fry or young trout are crowded together in shallow ponds, as their inclination is to keep together just where the water enters.

One day a blackbird, drinking at one of these ponds, got hold of a young trout, probably accidentally, but found it was excellent feeding. A blackbird does not by habit get its food from the water, but this particular one, having tapped a new source of food supply, returned to it again and again.

The following season this bird had by some means been able to impart its newly found knowledge to all the other blackbirds on the estate, and instead of one bird stealing the young fish, all the birds got into the way of doing so! The owner had either to shoot the blackbirds or give up trying to rear trout.

That an entire change of food is not detrimental may be proved by the fact that many of the cows kept in Norway are fed on fish, yet who will say that a cow's teeth were made for dealing with a diet of this sort?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Ghost Gives Shampoo to Women Customers

The curious story of a ghost that occupied itself in shampooing customers in a Kensington hairdresser's shop is told by Mary L. Leves in "The Queer Side of Things," recently published here, says a London correspondent of the New York World.

A woman who entered the shop in a busy hour was told she must wait until an assistant was free, the story goes. Very soon a tall girl with red hair and a velvet bow on her head came to the customer and set to work to shampoo her. The business over and the lady ready to put on her hat again, she turned around to ask the assistant for her bill, but to her surprise the girl had gone. Just then another attendant came in and said: "Now, madam, I am ready."

"But I have just been shampooed," answered the customer, as indeed her hair showed, without doubt, that it had just been expertly washed. Whereupon the assistant had to give in, and at last, being pressed for explanation, owned that the same thing had happened to other customers.

There was no ordinary explanation, beyond the fact that a girl with red hair who used until lately to be employed there had committed suicide, and that it was possibly her uneasy spirit that still returned to the scene of her former occupation.

His Stroke of Luck

One of the best legal anecdotes on record is told by Sir Ernest Wild, K. C. A civil action was being heard in a certain court of justice, and counsel, having opened the case, called the plaintiff, whereupon a member of the jury rose, left the jury box, and made his way to the witness box. Asked what he was doing, he stated that he was the plaintiff. "Then what are you doing on the jury?" said the judge. "I was summoned to sit on the jury," said the man, producing the summons. "But surely," said the judge, "you know that you cannot help to try your own case?" "Well," said the baffled one ruefully, "I did think it was a bit of luck."

Turn of the Tide

On entering his club one evening a young Washingtonian was accosted by a friend, who exclaimed:

"Why, Dick, you are positively beaming! What's up?"

"I am in the greatest luck imaginable," responded Dick. "You see, I have been attentive to a pretty Chevy Chase girl for more than a year. During all of that time she would never admit that she loved me; she would only say that she respected me. But now, old chap, congratulate me, for last night she confessed that she respected me no longer—that she loved me!"—Kansas City Star.

Lucky Brides

Three hundred years ago, the owner of a castle in Norfolk, England, left £1,000, the interest of which was to be divided between the eldest and the youngest, the tallest and the shortest of the brides who were married during the year in the village belonging to the castle.

This original custom is still continued. After each wedding in the village the bride is measured by the clergyman, and at the end of the year the result is made known and the "record" brides receive the gifts.

Handshaking Old Idea

Even Homer, Aristophanes and Virgil mentioned the social custom of shaking hands. English-speaking races took it up vigorously apparently as none are more adept in that custom than British and Americans. Many others, like the French and Italians, have variations in their form of greeting which the English-speaking countries do not. At the confirmation of a bargain it appears in II Kings 10:15. It is nevertheless practically relegated to the Anglo-Saxon races today.

ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY PASSES THRU CITY

New Scenic Highway For Minnesota With Minneapolis as Starting Point

IS A WELL MARKED TRAIL

Gives Residents of North Dakota and Montana a Splendid New Route

A new scenic highway for Minnesota in reality a new branch of the old Theodore Roosevelt highway, with Minneapolis as its starting point, will be ready for use within a few days and, tapping the former route at Cass Lake, will open a well-marked trail for motorists between the Twin Cities and Pacific Coast points. The new cut-off is being marked through Brainerd.

The route from Cass Lake to Minneapolis was selected last week by W. W. Blain, secretary of the Grand Forks Commercial Club and T. C. Hutchinson of Williston, North Dakota who is secretary of the North Dakota division of the Roosevelt Highway.

The new branch tapping the main highway at Cass Lake, is now being marked by Mr. Hutchinson, who is detained in Brainerd today on account of the rain. This route will furnish residents of North Dakota and Montana with a marked trail to Minneapolis, something they have wanted for years. It will also give motorists headed for North Dakota and the far Northwest an opportunity to pass through the center of Minnesota's park region of Ten Thousand Lakes. The new scenic route will reach such resort centers as Mille Lacs where it skirts the lake shore for 22 miles and touch at Brainerd, Walker, Cass Lake and Bemidji. Besides the trail will tap one of the best Highways crossing North Dakota from Grand Forks to Williston and then on good first class Montana roads to Glacier Park and Portland, Oregon.

The work of marking the new highway is being accomplished with the cooperation of the North Dakota division and the commercial organization in the booster towns along the route. The highway will enter and leave Brainerd on No. 2. To the east it will travel over No. 18 and to the North over No. 19.

An attractive emblem of bright red with the white letters "T. R." is being used for the official markings and is being painted on posts in the same manner as the Babcock system of this state.

Stop That "Chatter"

Don't blame your Ford if it misbehaves. It was not built to start, stop, or reverse in a convulsion of jerks and jumps—straining the entire mechanism! Ten-to-one you are not using the right character of oil.

Use NOCOLENE "F"

NOCOLENE "F" does away with this costly "chatter" and "creeping," the severe vibration that literally tears your Ford to pieces. Its peculiar substance penetrates between the Ford drum and transmission bands. Lubricates their glazed surfaces and keeps them from slipping and grabbing. Enables them to function with positive transmission and smoothness. Lengthens their life 100 to 300 per cent.

NOCOLENE

Stop That "Chatter"

Don't blame your Ford if it misbehaves. It was not built to start, stop, or reverse in a convulsion of jerks and jumps—straining the entire mechanism! Ten-to-one you are not using the right character of oil.

Use NOCOLENE "F"

NOCOLENE "F" does away with this costly "chatter" and "creeping," the severe vibration that literally tears your Ford to pieces. Its peculiar substance penetrates between the Ford drum and transmission bands. Lubricates their glazed surfaces and keeps them from slipping and grabbing. Enables them to function with positive transmission and smoothness. Lengthens their life 100 to 300 per cent.

"Stop at the nearest 'Northwestern' Station. Have your crank case drained, cleaned, and filled with NOCOLENE 'F.' You'll note the improvement—in less than a minute.

(NF-201)

NORTHWESTERN OIL COMPANY

To insure further pleasure and economy, refill with "Northwestern" Gasoline.

Motorists who drive cars other than Fords will do wisely to consult a "Northwestern" Service Man, or Dealer, to determine the correct grade of NOCOLENE for their cars.

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE GROWS

JUNE is a red-letter month for thousands of farm boys and girls because they have received diplomas entitling them to enter high school. These have usually been presented by county or town superintendents, in the presence of parents and schoolmates, at appropriate exercises held in honor of the occasion. The slogan has probably been: "On to high school."

Whether many of these boys and girls do go on to high school next September depends very largely upon the attitude of their parents towards education and their ability to solve difficulties. If there is no high school within walking distance of home and no train or bus service some way will need to be devised of overcoming the obstacles of distance between home and school.

If there is a high school within reasonable driving distance the solution is easy—the family can furnish its own transportation. If there is no high school within driving distance the child must either be boarded in town or the family must move to town. If the family income is small there must be considerable sacrifice on the part of both parents and children. But if there is a will, there is usually a way. Many a country boy and girl has exchanged domestic service for board and room while attending high school. Chambers of Commerce, Rotary clubs, Lions clubs and other civic and religious organizations are glad to help worthy boys and girls find a job.

Parents who fail to provide an opportunity for their children to secure a high school education handicap them in the race for life. Within the last two years the high school attendance in this country has been increasing at the rate of 200,000 a year. Between 1910 and 1920 its increase was 100,000 a year. Boys and girls of the present day will come in contact with more educated people than did their parents. They need, at least, a high school education in order to compete with the generation in which they are to live.

THE ELEMENT OF FEAR

KENNETH K. BUZBY of Philadelphia has an interesting article in the June Sample Case. The latter is the official organ of the United Commercial Travelers of America.

How much does the element of fear enter into your daily business life, queries Mr. Buzby. And how much has it robbed you? When are you going to stop it? Here is an insidious growth which almost every man must overcome before he attains the desired goal of complete success in life.

Do you possess fear or do you enter a compromise with your consciousness and call it slight timidity or nervousness? If so, you have no business to have this element catalogued in any department of your mind. It is a destroyer of many qualities; if fed it will grow, disrupt mental discipline, and will retard your normal, natural growth.

This element of fear or nervousness should be banished. One should make an honest examination of his mental capabilities and answer these questions:

What do I fear? Why do I fear? How much do I fear? When shall I stop fearing?

And the remedy is, "Don't think fear—banish it." Fear is ignorance and ignorance is lack of knowledge. Logically the remedy for banishing fear is an extensive knowledge of your subject, and back this up by good living habits and mental discipline which will tend to do away with any attack of nerves. Fear has its birth in darkness, and ignorance is mental darkness.

BEAUTIFUL LUM PARK

CROWDS at Lum park last night gave evidence that this beautiful park is being recognized as an amusement center. There was band music by the Wagon high school band, and dance music by Mitzi's Brainerd orchestra.

The refreshment stands were so busy that at one time it took six people to wait on the demands of the crowd. Park Commissioner Hugo A. Kaatz assisted in all places, serving pop, ice cream, etc. It is this spirit of helpfulness and intense interest shown by all members of the Park Board which is making our park system one of the valuable assets of the city.

Commissioner Kaatz presides over Lum park, which last year showed a nice balance of $1,000 or more on the right side of the ledger. Gregory park is the dominion of Commissioner T. H. Schaefer and just now is popular as the rostrum for candidates seeking public office. The Tourist Park, recently taken over by the Park Board, is presided over by Commissioner Carl Wright. It has been placed on a self-sustaining basis.

We believe no three parks in any city the size of Brainerd are more widely known and patronized.

10,000,000TH FLIVVER

THE 10,000,000th flivver was turned out by Henry Ford yesterday at his Detroit plant. It is to be shipped to New York within a few days and then driven on a cross country trip to San Francisco.

According to the company's announcement, it took seven years to produce the first 1,000,000 Ford cars and 132 working days for the last million.

THERE was some talk of Congress installing a radio so the people can hear what their representatives are saying, says the Kansas City Star editorially. What really seems to be needed is a device that will enable Congress to hear what the people at home are saying.

THERE is a clear-eyed pilot in the White House, and another in the Treasury Department, says the Minneapolis Tribune. Through dust and through mud-slinging the people have discerned the fact, and they are voting accordingly.

THE LaPorte, Ind., Argus says that the fault in primaries is that they indicate what the people want, not what the politicians want.

GENEVA SEEKS AID OF LEAGUE

Swiss Peninsula in a Sea of French Territory.

Washington, D. C.—Calling on the League of Nations—from within its own household, so to speak—to settle a discussion with France, next door, is an action threatened by the Canton of Geneva of the Swiss republic, in which this world organization has its seat.

This queer combination of world problem and domestic problem results from Geneva's being a sort of "political and economic peninsula thrust into France," according to a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society describing the canton.

Depends on French Supplies.
"The Canton of Geneva seems to hang precariously to the rest of Switzerland like a fragment of food on the bottom of a spoon," says the bulletin. "Though it has an area of more than a hundred square miles its contact with Swiss territory is across a narrow neck little more than three miles wide. The contact with France, on the other hand, is along a border more than 50 miles long."

"Naturally, Geneva has looked largely to French land, only a stone's throw away in every direction, for its fresh food supplies. The fact that this surrounding region is one of France's garden spots increased this natural dependence. Ringing Geneva are the prolific orchards and gardens and chestnut groves of the departments of Upper Savoy and Ain, and the general farming regions in which they are set with their poultry and small flocks of farm animals."

"Geneva has drawn many of its supplies from this region for centuries, long before the territory nearby was either French or Swiss. The city was virtually independent during the Middle Ages, being ruled as the temporal realm of a bishop appointed by the pope. For fifteen years after the first French republic was established, Geneva was annexed to France, and no question of boundaries arose."

Old Privilege Withdrawn.

"When the canton's independence was restored in 1815, the custom of drawing on the surrounding country for supplies was recognized and portions of Savoy and Ain were set apart as regions of free trade, the French economic frontier being maintained some miles back from the real boundary line. The Swiss citizens voted against their government's accepting the change, and it is the resulting dispute that may go to the League of Nations."

"To see Savoy's frontiers creep closer is no innovation for Genevans. For six hundred years the city had to withstand the intrigues of the counts and later the dukes of Savoy to get possession of its territory. One duke in 1444 even went so far as to have himself elected pope, in that capacity appointed himself bishop of Geneva, and then resigned the papacy, retaining the bishopric. After the death of this resourceful bishop a succession of his relatives held the office of bishop of Geneva, but they were finally ousted."

"Another Savoyard duke used 'economic pressure' that had an unpleasantly modern tone in his efforts to ruin the city he could not gain possession of. He induced his son-in-law, the king of France, to prohibit French merchants from visiting the famous old Geneva fair and to set dates for the Lyons fair that would conflict with those of the Geneva meeting."

"Most dramatic of Savoy's efforts to gain possession of Geneva was 'the Escalade.' In 1602, while apparently friendly toward the city, the duke of Savoy sent his soldiers at night with ladders to scale Geneva's walls. The intruders were discovered, many killed, and the rest driven out. When Geneva became the stronghold of the Reformation, 'the Protestant Rome,' its relations with Catholic Savoy were even more strained. Alliance with cities of the Swiss Confederation afforded protection, however, and the city held its own."

"Modern Geneva, besides being the seat of the League of Nations, draws to its confines thousands of visitors and even permanent residents from many lands, and so is in more senses than one an international city. Astride the Rhine where it dashes from Lake Geneva, the city is most picturesquely situated. At its door the lake furnishes a delightful pathway to some of the most beautiful scenery and some of the most delightful resorts in Switzerland."

Swiss cheese makers in convention at Monroeville, Wis., voted to keep the holes in their product. Swiss cheese is not Swiss cheese if it is permitted to go blind, they asserted.

The Studebaker Light-Six!

More are sold than of any other six in the thousand-dollar price class!

More because—it is the sweetest, smoothest-running Six you ever drove. Its specially designed offset valve motor, its machined crankshaft, its four big crankshaft bearings, its perfectly precision cylinders, pistons and reciprocating parts are the reason.

More because—no other car in its price class shows such obvious indications of quality—genuine leather upholstery, a hand-tailored top and curtains, carefully selected details of equipment, lustrous baked enamel finish.

More because—its 40-horsepower motor, its correct gear ratio, its beautiful balance and low center of gravity, make it like lightning in the "get-away," never failing on a hill, and effortless under a full load on any reasonable road.

More because—it is backed by a great service organization, immediately and willingly accessible.

More because—its recognized used car value protects you with the lowest possible depreciation when you come to trade it in.

To prove its goodness by performance we will lend you a Light-Six any day this week—come in and ask for it.

F. F. ELLSWORTH SPOKE IN BRAINERD

Former Congressman is a Candidate
For Republican Nomination
For Governor

TRIBUTE TO NATION'S FOUNDERS

"Suffering Today From a Burden of Too Much Law," Said
Speaker

Franklin F. Ellsworth, former Congressman, and candidate for the republican nomination for governor, spoke in Brainerd Tuesday evening at Gregory park.

Mr. Ellsworth opened his address, after an eloquent tribute to the high ideals of the founders of America, with the statement that the Constitution of the United States was a perfect enough document and under it the United States could govern itself without radical modification for one hundred years and maintain the best government in the world.

The speaker stated that it was a matter of character and morals of the people themselves that determined the kind of government that the country is to have. He showed that representatives political parties with full responsibility are necessary, and that our state government is patterned after the federal government.

"We are suffering today from a burden of too much law," declared the speaker. "The government is becoming paternalistic and the people's attitude toward the government is one in which they seem to forget that they themselves are that government, and that they cannot secure special benefits without being called upon to shoulder the burden."

"The balance of power today in the United States is in the upper Mississippi valley, the Northwest, or what we term Middle-America," said Mr. Ellsworth. "The pivotal point of this northwest section is our own state of Minnesota."

"Minnesota is peculiarly situated. It is the center of three transcontinental railway systems, one-third of its population is located in the twin cities, a powerful corporation owns the richest iron ore deposits in the state. The temptation to exert power thus centralized has been so great that Minnesota has become the most corrupt in its politics of any state in the union."

"The system that has been built up is not a party system but a bipartisanship, a complete destruction of all semblance of responsible party organization, professing party loyalty always, but maintaining that loyalty only as it suits their particular purposes."

Mr. Ellsworth discussed the tonnage tax, and favoring an increased tax on iron ore. He favors the repeal of the Brooks-Coleman law, restore representative government, abolish, reduce and consolidate state departments and commissions, and dispense with surplus employees. He stated that if elected governor he would allow no sinister political influence the slightest control.

Sees Earth a Desert Were Birds to Perish

While man fondly imagines himself lord of the world in which he lives he is actually nothing of the sort. The true masters of this planet are the insects, and while man can easily hold his own against the beasts he is helpless against the insects. Helpless, that is, without the help of the birds. Few have the faintest notion of the might of the insect world, which far exceeds in number of species, in voracity and in power of multiplication all other living things. More than three hundred thousand different sorts of insects have been classified, and there are tens of thousands still to be described.

Were insects left to work their will and multiply unchecked, it would be merely a matter of two or at the outside three years before all crops and all green things would be destroyed. The earth would be a desert.

Farmers and gardeners are constantly at war with birds because some species eat considerable quantities of grain and fruit. It is, however, essential to remember the fact that the food of birds consists mainly of insects and that the bird is the one force which swings the balance of Nature against the insect herds.—T. C. Bridges, in the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

A Find

A great commercial magnate was driven into a small candy store during a storm and spent half an hour watching the ancient proprietor attend upon the vagaries of a child who was thinking of spending a cent.

The infinite patience of the old man impressed him. Finally the cent was spent and the youngster went.

"Pop, you're wasting time here," said the magnate. "Come with me and I'll make you head floorwalker of my department store."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Some Other Lobster

The wife of a prominent surgeon was accosted by the son of their gardener.

"Mrs. P.—," he said, "did you tell my pa I smoked cigarettes?"

"Why, no, John. I had no idea you smoked, and I wouldn't have told your father if I had known," she answered. "Well, maybe you didn't tell 'im, but some lobster did!"—Exchange.

Not So Funny

An insurance salesman is looking for the practical joker who gave him a loaded cigar. The salesman doesn't smoke, so he treasured the cigar. Monday he gave it to a man who was about to sign a $10,000 policy. The cigar burst like a bomb and the indignant prospective customer ordered the salesman out. He went, with the policy still unsigned.—Detroit News.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advt.

THEIR PAST LIFE THEIR OWN AFFAIR

"It Isn't What You Used to Be" in Wyoming.

I cannot pick out and describe, even in a line or two each, all those first neighbors of mine in Wyoming; fairly distant neighbors most of them, living anywhere from five to forty miles away, writes Struthers Burt in the Saturday Evening Post.

I cannot even give a satisfactory composite picture of the curiously cosmopolitan society, surfaced by common desires and common traditions, that distinguishes most cattle countries. In the case of my country, not so cosmopolitan as some others I have known.

There was, for instance, the handsome son of a great New York family, who had been sent West because he was thought to be a drunkard, but who developed—unlike most of his fellow remittance men—into the shrewdest and most sober of cattlemen; and there was the son of an American admiral the rest of whose family lived in Florence; and there was an ex-policeman from Pennsylvania who had shot a man justifiably but had decided to emigrate; and there was the illegitimate offspring of a race famous in New England; and Dodge, the Harvard man; and another man whose talk was of the roughest, but who occasionally let drop a phrase astonishing in its delicacy and sureness of education; and there was the mysterious heir of a South African official, who had a photograph of two beautiful sisters.

These, and more like them, and then a score of men whose real names and stories were never known at all.

The heir of the South African official is still in the country, and will be there forever. He was shot a few years ago by a boy who had worked for us, and the shooting was so necessary that the boy was never even arrested.

The Boer, between whom and the boy there had been bad blood for a long while, rode over to the boy's ranch, announcing his intention of murdering him; and arriving at the door, placed his horse between him and the cabin and attempted to shoot the boy and his wife through the window.

A strange fellow this Boer, a charming, blue-eyed, curly-headed young man with a slight foreign lisp. He had been a mounted policeman in the Canadian Northwest and a top cowpuncher everywhere; but he told me he had once fallen and injured his head, and I don't think he had ever got over the injury, for he was undoubtedly insane at moments.

He could never spend a night at a ranch without taking something away

the next morning, and then you would find the thing he had taken, up the road where he had thrown it half an hour later. One time I was riding with him through the fringe of cottonwood that bounds the ranch on the south. He sniffed the scented air. "This always reminds me," he said, in his soft voice, "of ballrooms."

One of the Alert

Lord Beaverbrook, the multimillionaire, told a story at a dinner in New York.

"You American business men are so alert," he said, "that it's easy to believe the anecdote about young Higginson."

"Young Higginson called on Banker Bonus and said:

"Mr. Bonus, I'll take up only two minutes of your time. I have come to ask you for your daughter's hand, sir."

"Young man," said the wealthy banker, "do you—"

"Yes, sir," said young Higginson, "I do realize that Annette has been reared in the lap of luxury, but this luxury the dear girl is ready to forego."

"Can you—"

"Yes, sir, I can. Not as you have done, of course, but comfortably and respectively. My salary, sir, is a good one, and my prospects excellent."

"Well you—"

"Yes, sir, I will carry a life policy large enough to provide for Annette adequately in case I should be taken away."

"Would you—"

"No, sir; I would not expect to live with you in this palatial home. My savings have enabled me to purchase in the suburbs a modest ten-room bungalow with two baths, and I have actually had the good fortune to secure from a cook the promise to come to us at the very modest figure of $80 a month."

"The banker held out his hand cordially."

"Young man," he said, "I like your style. You can have her. Good—"

"Morning, sir!" — Detroit Free Press.

Beauty Aids

"Some girls proceed according to this system," remarked Huffy. "If five bracelets will make you beautiful, ten bracelets will make you irresistible."

"The Congo belle carries that theory to its logical conclusion," interposed Cuthbert. "Wears about sixty pounds of assorted junk." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

"It Isn't What You Used to Be" in Wyoming.

I cannot pick out and describe, even in a line or two each, all those first neighbors of mine in Wyoming; fairly distant neighbors most of them, living anywhere from five to forty miles away, writes Struthers Burt in the Saturday Evening Post.

I cannot even give a satisfactory composite picture of the curiously cosmopolitan society, surfaced by common desires and common traditions, that distinguishes most cattle countries. In the case of my country, not so cosmopolitan as some others I have known.

There was, for instance, the handsome son of a great New York family, who had been sent West because he was thought to be a drunkard, but who developed—unlike most of his fellow remittance men—into the shrewdest and most sober of gentlemen; and there was the son of an American admiral the rest of whose family lived in Florence; and there was an ex-policeman from Pennsylvania who had shot a man justifiably but had decided to emigrate; and there was the illegitimate offspring of a race famous in New England; and Dodge, the Harvard man; and another man whose talk was of the roughest, but who occasionally let drop a phrase astonishing in its delicacy and sureness of education; and there was the mysterious heir of a South African official, who had a photograph of two beautiful sisters.

These, and more like them, and then a score of men whose real names and stories were never known at all.

The heir of the South African official is still in the country, and will be there forever. He was shot a few years ago by a boy who had worked for us, and the shooting was so necessary that the boy was never even arrested.

The Boer, between whom and the boy there had been bad blood for a long while, rode over to the boy's ranch, announcing his intention of murdering him; and arriving at the door, placed his horse between him and the cabin and attempted to shoot the boy and his wife through the window.

A strange fellow this Boer, a charming, blue-eyed, curly-headed young man with a slight foreign lisp. He had been a mounted policeman in the Canadian Northwest and a top cowpuncher everywhere, but he told me he had once fallen and injured his head, and I don't think he had ever got over the injury, for he was undoubtedly insane at moments.

He could never spend a night at a ranch without taking something away

the next morning, and then you would find the thing he had taken, up the road where he had thrown it half an hour later. One time I was riding with him through the fringe of cottonwood that bounds the ranch on the south. He sniffed the scented air. "This always reminds me," he said, in his soft voice, "of ballrooms."

One of the Alert

Lord Beaverbrook, the multimillionaire, told a story at a dinner in New York.

"You American business men are so alert," he said, "that it's easy to believe the anecdote about young Higginson."

"Young Higginson called on Banker Bonus and said:

"Mr. Bonus, I'll take up only two minutes of your time. I have come to ask you for your daughter's hand, sir."

"Young man," said the wealthy banker, "I don't know you."

"Yes, sir," said young Higginson, "I do realize that Annette has been reared in the lap of luxury, but this luxury the dear girl is ready to forego."

"Can you—"

"Yes, sir, I can. Not as you have done, of course, but comfortably and respectively. My salary, sir, is a good one, and my prospects excellent."

"Will you—"

"Yes, sir, I will carry a life policy large enough to provide for Annette adequately in case I should be taken away."

"Would you—"

"No, sir; I would not expect to live with you in this palatial home. My savings have enabled me to purchase in the suburbs a modest ten-room bungalow with two baths, and I have actually had the good fortune to secure from a cook the promise to come to us at the very modest figure of $80 a month."

"The banker held out his hand cordially."

"Young man," he said, "I like your style. You can have her. Good—"

"Morning, sir!" — Detroit Free Press.

Beauty Aids

"Some girls proceed according to this system," remarked Huffy. "If five bracelets will make you beautiful, ten bracelets will make you irresistible." "The Congo belle carries that theory to its logical conclusion," interposed Cuthbert. "Wears about sixty pounds of assorted junk." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

LUM PARK HAS FINE BAND CONCERT

Official Opening Last Night Graced
by Playing of Capt. Kidd's High School Band

LARGE CROWDS PRESENT
Band Plays From New Bandstand Erected This Spring Over the Lake

Lum park was officially opened on Wednesday evening with a band concert given by Captain Kidd's high school band, of Wahkon, followed by a dance at which the Mitz Witham orchestra furnished the music.

Braingerd people responded in force to the invitation of the park board to the concert and dance, thus showing their appreciation of the efforts of the board to make Lum park the amusement center of the city. So many automobiles lined both sides of the driveway through the park that late arrivals found great difficulty in finding parking space.

The band rendered its concert from the new bandstand which the park board erected this spring over the lake, and which is a decided improvement on the old stand near the pavilion.

The players presented a fine appearance in their new red uniforms with red over-seas caps, and made a very good impression upon their audience with the high quality of the program that they rendered. Popular and instrumental numbers were handled with equal ease, and received a big ovation from the listeners.

Captain Kidd's high school band consists of thirty-eight pieces, and is composed of both boys and girls who are members of the Waukon schools. C. V. Schofield, the director, is superintendent of the school, and has developed his band to a high state of proficiency. He stated that this is the first year of playing for about half of his organization.

It will be remembered that this band appeared in Brainerd last season, during the North Star Minnesota Editorial convention. Director Schofield said that the band was so well treated here that he was anxious to show his appreciation of these courtesies by returning and giving a concert last evening. The players motored to the city Wednesday morning, and returned to their home after the concert that evening.

Braingerd is especially interested in juvenile organizations of this kind, since there is a boys band in the city, and visits from other such bands is an inspiration and incentive to the local players.

Those in attendance at the concert on Wednesday evening were very agreeably surprised at the many improvements that the park board has made in Lum park this spring. The park has been nicely cleaned up, a number of new tables installed for the convenience of picnic parties, and the beach improved.

Bath house facilities have been increased, the old refreshment stand near the pavilion has been moved to the lake shore and remodeled into a fine bathhouse. The long bath house of last year has been divided into three and moved farther down the lake, so that there will be no obstruction in a view of the water from the pavilion.

The dance floor has been repaired and leveled and placed on new slits. The refreshment stand now occupies the opposite side of the pavilion and has been enlarged and improved.

The park board feels that in Lum park the city now has a recreation center second to none in this section of the state and urges citizens to take full advantage of the opportunities afforded there this year.

STANDARD OIL CO. MEETS COMPETITION

To meet competition, the Standard Oil Co., announces a reduction of three cents a gallon in its gasoline. Service station prices on Red Crown gasoline is 18.8 cents per gallon, and on Solite 21.8 cents per gallon.

CHANGE EVENING LIBRARY HOURS

(Contributed)

This change in evening library hours is made public.

According to the usual summer custom, the library will be open one hour in the evening—from 7 to 8—beginning June 2nd until September 1st. The afternoon hours will be the same as usual—from 2 to 5.

Home coming week for delinquent library books extended one week.

Because some people did not see last week's notice, and consequently all the books were not returned, we have decided to extend the time one week. May we ask you again to look over your shelves to see if perchance some library book may be hidden among your own books. With only eight thousand books for over four thousand patrons, you can clearly see that we need our books, to keep them in circulation.

No books may be issued to borrowers having delinquent books until these are returned.

MITZI ORCHESTRA

Plays Musical Score of "Hunchback of Notre Dame" at New Park Theatre

Mitzi's orchestra has been engaged by the New Park to play the musical score on "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday nights. A wonderful musical score has been arranged for this production and will add greatly to the presentation.

Brainerd theatre goers should take advantage of this great picture with a first class orchestra at popular prices, because of the fact that in all the large cities of the U. S. this attraction has been playing at a dollar and sixty-five cents admission. This picture will be shown in Brainerd at a smaller admission, we believe, than any other place in the United States. It is hoped that the people will show their appreciation of the better things by filling the New Park to capacity every performance of the four day run beginning Saturday.

MITZI ORCHESTRA

Plays Musical Score of "Hunchback of Notre Dame" at New Park Theatre

Mitzi's orchestra has been engaged by the New Park to play the musical score on "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday nights. A wonderful musical score has been arranged for this production and will add greatly to the presentation.

Brainerd theatre goers should take advantage of this great picture with a first class orchestra at popular prices, because of the fact that in all the large cities of the U. S. this attraction has been playing at a dollar and sixty-five cents admission. This picture will be shown in Brainerd at a smaller admission, we believe, than any other place in the United States. It is hoped that the people will show their appreciation of the better things by filling the New Park to capacity every performance of the four day run beginning Saturday.

FIGHTERS' DEMANDS STOPPING MATCHES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, June 5.—Great difficulty being experienced by the promoters in getting champion boxers and outstanding title contenders to accept matches that would make it possible to meet their exorbitant purse demands, leads to the conviction that the 1924 outdoor season will be as drab as last year's was sparkling.

At this time last year the Milk Fund heavyweight show had been staged in New York, and Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, the survivors had been matched to meet in Jersey City on July 12.

Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons had been matched to meet in Shelby on July 4. Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde had been matched for the fly-weight championship. Kilbane had lost his title to Eugene Criqui, and the Frenchman had been matched with Johnny Dundee for the title. Benny Leonard had been matched with Lew Tendler for the lightweight championship, and the Harry Greb-Johnny Wilson middleweight championship was in the making.

This year the only outstanding match that has been even suggested up to this time has been the Dempsey-Wild heavy-weight championship bout for September, and Dempsey had not accepted terms.

Promoters blame the slump in business on the boxers, and the promoters are held to be responsible by the boxers. Politics and petty fighting between the promoters also has discouraged the game in New York.

Tex Rickard's rivals succeeded in driving him out of New York by beating him to the privilege at the two hall parks. Rickard, however, has an ace in the hole in the possession of the Jersey City stadium and in an understanding with most of the boxers that are needed to make the big matches.

Rickard, for instance, has the heavy-weight situation "sewed" up through a contract with Harry Wills and first call upon the services of Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and Jack Renault. Firpo, of course, has pulled away from Rickard, but if Firpo fights he will have to fight for Rickard as he couldn't get a match with any heavy-weight who is not under actual obligations to Rickard.

To get a big shot, heavyweights have to accept the opponents that promoters pick for them, but the champions and the headliners in the lighter classes not only want tremendous purses, but they want to meet opponents that will not place them in peril of losing their titles.

One of the "naturals" in prospect is a welter-weight championship bout between Mickey Walker, the title holder, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion. So many difficulties have been encountered in the making of this match that it is probable it never will be staged.

Leonard wants $150,000 for his end, and he also wants a look at Walker's contract to see that the welter-weight champion does not get any more than he does. Leonard, like several other champions, is not content to get all he can from the promoters, but he does not want his opponents to make any real money off him.

KNIGHT OF THE ROLLER SKATE TO SEEK TRAIL'S END ON RIBBON OF CONCRETE

(Minneapolis Tribune)

Minneapolis, June 5.—Barney Google does his touring on a puddle-jumper. Alba Hall, teamster, who lives at the Globe hotel, does his on roller skates.

On a pair of reliable rollers, Hall headed north on the Jefferson highway this morning to "Where the Pavement Ends"—in this case, Belle Prairie, Minn., about 15 miles this side of Brainerd.

Hall estimates the distance at about 100 miles. He expects to make it in 10 hours, including time out for lunches. He expects to average around 15 miles an hour. That's nothing, he says, for in his day he could do twenty miles an hour, and they didn't have ball bearings in roller skates those days, either.

Hall's "day" was 35 years ago, when he skated 100 miles in seven hours and a half. He hasn't been on skates much since. He hasn't had them on at all for two years. A couple of years ago he skated in a home-coming parade at Brainerd. The Brainerd Dispatch had quite a write-up about it, he says. Brainerd is his old home town and it was there that he skated in that 100-mile race. On the last lap he made a record—for himself, at least—a mile in three minutes flat.

Hall is 52 years old. To the fact that he went in for roller skating and handsprings in his youth he attributes his vigor in middle life. He can still do handsprings, he says, and with the steel-wheeled, ball-bearing roller skates of today he sees no reason why he shouldn't break his own record of 35 years ago. If this trip turns out well, he's going to skate out on the highways in all directions.

"I'll start off from the bus depot at 4 a. m.," he said Tuesday. "I want to get away early, while it's cool. And there won't be any traffic to speak of early in the morning that way, so I ought to get a good start. St. Cloud will be my first stop."

Hall says he'll have to keep to the sidewalks until he reaches the city limits. He doesn't want to get his wheels all gummed up with tar.

There is also the little matter of cracks in the pavement between here and Belle Prairie. Hall isn't decided yet whether he'll jump—or detour.

MUSKIES ONLY BIG PICKEREL IS NEW CLAIM

Park Rapids, Minn., June 5.—When is a muskie not a muskie?

When his pa and ma are pickerel. This is the conundrum which has Park Rapids fishermen standing around on street corners and gnashing their teeth.

Somebody has had the audacity to question the ancestry of the fighting tiger muskies of the lakes near here. "Overgrown pickerel," Yes, you and your whole family!" is the gist of the insult that has come out of Wisconsin.

It seems that somebody in Wisconsin, in trying to hatch muskies for distribution through the lakes, declares that nothing but pickerel came out of the muskie spawn!

The Minnesota state game and fish department is investigating. Thaddeus Surber, superintendent of fish propagation, has sent out a call for a baby muskie.

"If I can find a muskie a foot long, and if it is not a pickerel, we can prove the pure and lawful ancestry of the tiger muskie," Mr. Surber says.

And so the word has gone around here to catch a little muskie. It is pointed out that the tiger muskie is a distinctive fish, which is proved by his entirely different coloring and fighting abilities.

But somebody has had the nerve to question it.

And the hero of Park Rapids shall be he who brings in from one of the lakes this summer a muskie—not the largest muskie—but the smallest.

It is unlawful to keep a muskie under 30 inches in length. But what is jail to a hero?

And so some time this summer somebody with a muskie a foot long will receive honors never known to the catcher of a 30-pounder.

You can't get a smile in this neck of the woods this summer with a 50-pounder. The bigger you catch them, the less is your reputation.

But if you would earn a permanent niche in the hall of fame here—

Catch the smallest muskie on record!

On a pair of reliable rollers, Hall headed north on the Jefferson highway this morning to "Where the Pavement Ends"—in this case, Belle Prairie, Minn., about 19 miles this side of Brainerd.

Hall estimates the distance at about 109 miles. He expects to make it in 10 hours, including time out for lunches. He expects to average around 15 miles an hour. That's nothing, he says, for in his day he could do twenty miles an hour, and they didn't have ball bearings in roller skates those days, either.

Hall's "day" was 35 years ago, when he skated 100 miles in seven hours and a half. He hasn't been on skates much since. He hasn't had them on at all for two years. A couple of years ago he skated in a home-coming parade at Brainerd. The Brainerd Dispatch had quite a write-up about it, he says. Brainerd is his old home town and it was there that he skated in that 100-mile race. On the last lap he made a record—for himself, at least—a mile in three minutes flat.

Hall is 52 years old. To the fact that he went in for roller skating and handspinning in his youth he attributes his vigor in middle life. He can still do handspinning, he says, and with the steel-wheeled, ball-bearing roller skates of today he sees no reason why he shouldn't break his own record of 35 years ago. If this trip turns out well, he's going to skate out on the highways in all directions.

"I'll start off from the bus depot at 4 a. m.," he said Tuesday. "I want to get away early, while it's cool. And there won't be any traffic to speak of early in the morning that way, so I ought to get a good start. St. Cloud will be my first stop."

Hall says he'll have to keep to the sidewalks until he reaches the city limits. He doesn't want to get his wheels all gummed up with tar.

There is also the little matter of cracks in the pavement between here and Belle Prairie. Hall isn't decided yet whether he'll jump—or detour.

MUSKIES ONLY BIG PICKEREL IS NEW CLAIM

Park Rapids, Minn., June 5.—When is a muskie not a muskie? When his pa and ma are pickerel. This is the conundrum which has Park Rapids fishermen standing around on street corners and gnashing their teeth.

Somewhere has had the audacity to question the ancestry of the fighting tiger muskies of the lakes near here. "Overgrown pickerel." Yes, you and your whole family! is the gist of the insult that has come out of Wisconsin.

It seems that somebody in Wisconsin, in trying to hatch muskies for distribution through the lakes, declares that nothing but pickerel came out of the muskie spawn!

The Minnesota state game and fish department is investigating. Thaddeus Surber, superintendent of fish propagation, has sent out a call for a baby muskie.

"If I can find a muskie a foot long, and if it is not a pickerel, we can prove the pure and lawful ancestry of the tiger muskie," Mr. Surber says.

And so the word has gone around here to catch a little muskie. It is pointed out that the tiger muskie is a distinctive fish, which is proved by his entirely different coloring and fighting abilities.

But somebody has had the nerve to question it.

And the hero of Park Rapids shall be he who brings in from one of the lakes this summer a muskie—not the largest muskie—but the smallest.

It is unlawful to keep a muskie under 30 inches in length. But what is jail to a hero?

And so some time this summer somebody with a muskie a foot long will receive honors never known to the catcher of a 30-pounder.

You can't get a smile in this neck of the woods this summer with a 50-pounder. The bigger you catch them, the less is your reputation. But if you would earn a permanent niche in the hall of fame here—

Catch the smallest muskie on record!

Y. M. C. A. 11 FAST "SEALS" 10

Y. TEAM WINS SECOND GAME IN TWO DAYS

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team won its second game in two days when it defeated the fast "Seals" in a thrilling game on Wednesday evening by a score of 11 to 10.

Entering the sixth inning six runs in the rear of their opponents, the Y. staged a rally and pounded Zak's offerings all over the lot, pushing six scores over the plate and tying the score.

The Seals added one in their half of the seventh, but the Y. continued its slaughter. With men on second and third, Hagberg hit a double to left field, sending in the winning runs. A feature of the game was the iron man work of the Y. M. C. A. pitcher, Ericsson, it being his second game pitched and won in two days.

The score by innings is as follows:
Seals.....303 030 1—10
Y. M. C. A.....201 006 2—11
Batteries—Seals, Zakariasen and Carlson, Caron. Y. M. C. A., Ericsson and Larson.

"Backbone" Splendid Picture at the Lyceum

Does true love last forever? Visit the Lyceum Theatre tonight and find out from the new distinctive picture, "Backbone," from the famous Saturday Evening Post story by Clarence Budington Kelland. It tells the story of a love which lasted for hundreds of years. Centuries ago, the lovers were separated in France, the girl giving up her lover to save his life. Centuries later, in northern Maine, that frustrated love story is fulfilled. You must see the photo-play to learn the details. The modern lovers, despite many trials and dramatic mischances, are reunited. Their spirit of "backbone" holds them together in spite of the plottings of two villainous men.
